DESCRIPTION

Pepticate is a hypoallergenic, extensively hydrolyzed infant formula (eHF) indicated for infants with cow milk allergy (CMA) and colic related to CMA. Pepticate is nutritionally complete and clinically shown to support growth while helping to provide relief from symptoms of CMA.

Pepticate is the leading eHF in Europe with over 30 years of experience in managing infants with CMA and sold in over 75 countries.†

Pepticate is:

- Hypoallergenic
- Clinically shown to be safe, well tolerated, and support growth
- Nutritionally complete for infants from birth to 12 months of age
- The first and only eHF with a blend of prebiotic fibers in the US to support infant digestive health
 - HCPs rated Pepticate as the UK's best tasting eHF‡
- Made with DHA and ARA to promote brain and eye development
- The #1 best-tasting hypoallergenic eHF rated by parents§

Pepticate is brought to you by Nutricia, the makers of Neocate. Pepticate is a hypoallergenic, extensively hydrolyzed infant formula for use under medical supervision and is indicated for cow milk allergy in infants from birth to 12 months.

Not suitable for infants with galactosemia due to the presence of lactose.

*Based on annual sales data, dated 4.30.24.

†Sold under various brand names worldwide

‡Maslin et al. Pediatr Allergy Immunol. 2018;28:857-62.

§Based on a March 2024 nationwide taste test, among parents, of powdered eHFs.
